

How priceless is your unfailing love, O God!

People take refuge in the shadow of your wings.

Psalm 36:7

These days are traumatic, disturbing, and anxiety filled. Nothing like this have ever happened...what will we do?! There is no use denying that we are frazzled, scared and undone by these crazy days...We need to pause, let this craziness sink in and let the strong emotions plow through our hearts and minds. THEN we need to pick ourselves up and get moving into healing and restoration. God HAS NOT given up on us!

The Virus is NOT taking us down! We are lifting people up!

Priceless

God's love and protection for us is priceless, our love for God is priceless.

Idea: Set aside some time every day (Lord knows, most of us have the time now)...

♥ Set aside time to talk to God – ask God to draw close to you and your loved ones, re-strengthen the bonds that supported you in the past, make them even stronger today.

♥ Set aside time to call someone(s) on the telephone – tell them something like, “Hi, I have been thinking about you, and called to see if you were OK.” People will appreciate this more than you know. You would appreciate it, right? So, will they!

Refuge

This is a place where you feel safe and feel less anxious and less scared about the future. We will pull through this. Especially if we pull through this together! I have a place across the road from the house I rent...it is a refuge spot for me in the woods. I go there a lot and God meets me there every time. I come back across the street to the house and feel better, because I know God has met with me. Give this a try, you may like it... besides, it gets you out of the house! Sometimes I even take Diesel, my dog, he likes it to.
